AND AFIER IRYING HARD BUCKING

Time may roll on, business may be dull, but bills come do just the same and the day when you must pay comes just as sure as taxes and death. The Sample Shop Co. has conducted its business on your Main St. for over 10 years. In that time it has developed a host of friends and patrons from the fact that the character of the merchandise sold was always the fluest and prices more reasonable than elsewhere by view of the fact that it was a specialty shop and catered only to character merchandise. We wish to say that it is the same quality merchandise offered in this sale and not a lot of second grades or returned damaged garments that a merchant so often gets when he buys a CLOSE OUT. This entire stock was purchased to be sold in a regular retail way. It is extremely unfortunate for a concern like the Sample Shop Co to spend its long years in trying hard to serve the public faith fully, but they were victims of cheumstance. Their loss and the creditors' loss is your gain. This condition is universal throughout the mercant e field of the country. Bigger and stronger business is giving way and breaking under the great strain this pressure is brought to bare. In the past the public has had to pit, but in this period of reconstruction, or in other words getting back to normal on a good sound bustiness footing, they directly benefit, as the creditors and merchant is the direct looser, so in all sincerity we urge you to come to the great merchantile event. It will pay you many times over.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

THE Cleveland minister who formulated ten commandments for young women in a sermon recently gave them some sound advice. It is not to be expected that these commandments will be unbroken, but the ideas contained should make an impression on girls in particular and all womankind in general.

Girls probably will have some trouble with the one in which he cautions them against breaking dates with men with flivvers for those with more attractive automobiles. It is the rule that the fellow with the best looking machine catches the most girls.

Many will not find it difficult to abide by the commandments which declare snicking of cigarets and the "shimmy" taboo.

The injunction which should be appreciated by young men about to embark on the sea of matrimony, if the prospective brides will follow its mandate, says: "Thou shalt know how to prepare a square meal before thou consentest to become some man's wife." There is a whole sermon in those few words. Too many girls do not prepare themselves to become good wives before they marry men of modest means who cannot afford servants. Dissatisof the divorce courts.

Difficult indeed it will be for most women to follow the advice of this pastor when he says "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's fur coat." They will argue that it isn't human nature and go on coveting the pretty things other women wear and which they cannot have.

The Clevelander probably will be called an old fogy for cautions such as "Thou shalt not flirt" and "Thou shalt not make thyself a painted image." A great number of men will not believe he is.

On the whole he appears to have boiled down into a few words some very valuable rules for living, which, if followed, will save the world a great amount of pain, worry, unpleasantness and strife among mortals.

0 0 0 0 0 DOTTY AND CONNIE

HIS may be a transgression upon the legit imate prerogative of the movie critic but it is considered worth while to mention herein that the world of silent drama has just been given two of the biggest thrills it has evperienced in some time.

And the thrills were furnished by movie stars, Dorothy Gish and Constance Talmadge. They made good their threat that if ever they were married, the ceremonies would take place at the same hour. Participating in many heart-breaking scenes in the screen shows, with love affairs by the score and romances without number-on the screen-these very attractive stars have dissipated the dreams of their admirers among the male patrons of the motion picture theatres and actually picked husbands whom they have promised to love and honor and likewise-obey, according to the wording of the ceremony, which seems to mean so little to many.

Eschewing movie romance, these delightful maidens, who make millions laugh or cry at will, just went about the job of matrimony like ordinary mortals; after all, that's what they are, exactly. Hieng away before a pustice of the peace in Greenwich village, with the manly fellows who are to be their companions thru life, a double knot was quickly tied.

The click of the camera was not heard, nor even the commanding voice of the director. Perhaps they've registered real happiness. Their screen admirers will hope so, fervently. They've robbed the poor press agent of his best thunder, these two damsels. If Dottie and Connie have ever entertained the "no marriage for me" attitude, they've forgotten all about it Here's luck girlies!

0 0 0 0 0 THE SAME OLD STORY

WAS the same old story, A Lima man was speaking of the dealer with whom he had done business for a number of years in no uncertain language. He was mad.

"I just paid him an account for the second time," he said. "I didn't think it of Bill Jones. I handed him $10 a couple of weeks ago and then he sent me a statement for the amount. I paid it again, but that will be the last cent of my money he will get."

John Smith had handed Bill Jones $10 to pay an account while Jones was away from his office. Jones forgot the transaction in the rush of business he was about and neither had a record of the transactions.

Both men were honest but Smith had lost a friend and Jones a good customer because Smith had used poor business methods and Jones had allowed him to do so.

Both men would be friendly today if Smith had paid his bill in the manner in which business men transact their dealings today-by check. He would have had a record and rereipt. But he had not formed the habit of doing his business thru a bank; he merely handed out the cash and sometimes forget to get a receipt.

Paying by check is the safe and sensible ay. None can afford to be without banking connections. Banks do not demand that a man be worth thousands to become a patron. The small depositor is as welcome as the larger and it is upon that theory that successful banking of today is founded

CARTOONING MINISTERS

MOVEMENT as been started in Washing-A ton that really ought to bear fruit. The public morals board of the Methodist Episcopai church has announced that it will inaugurate a campaign to "stop the contemptuous treatment of the Protestant ministry by some cartoonists, writers and actors."

The board emphasizes this also: "The time has come also when Protestants should not tolerate any other than courteous treatment of their religion and ministry." The matter is being called to the attention of ministers of all denominations and their congregations, with . request that "any violations of ordinary courtesy" be reported to the board, which will make them public.

At first glance this may seem a surprising thing for the representatives of a church to do, but when one stops to consider the manner in which cartoonists often depict ministers of the gospel, it appears little short of sacrilegious. Ministers of the gospel are expected to set good public examples as well as expound the theory of right living and thinking and practice.

Continual cartooning makes them look rifaction begins and the result is overburdening | diculous and destroys their usefulness among many as lack of respect for them is impaired. The suggestion offered by the public morals hoard of the M. E. church should be remembered by carteonists

0 0 0 0 0 HIS HOBBY, CLOCK COLLECTING

EATH of Henry W. Riddle, only million-D aire at Ravenna, Ohio, removes from life the possessor of an unusual hobby-that of collecting clocks. With Riddle's passing, there is prepared for dispersal what probably is the largest collection of apright or grandfathers' clocks in the United States.

In the upper stories of his residence Riddle had stored these time-pieces for years until room after room was crowded with them. His purchases required him to travel about the country almost continuously and dealers in antiques had standing orders from him to pick up specimens.

Many of the clocks are centuries old and came from overseas. Several have mechanisms constructed entirely of wood. Riddle was 83 years old at death and maintained his hobby almost his entire life. Many thousands of dollars he invested in old clocks, that are worthless save as antiques

If So Your Bladder is Irritated. Try This Simple Remedy.

Wm. D. Ostemeyer, 326 12. Second St. Dayten, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News. My bladder caused me to get up many times at night and inconvenienced me as often as every 30 minutes in the day. After taking a few lithiated buchin tablets, my bladder is perfectly normal They also relieved me of a very lame back. It gives me much pelasure to tril my friends about those little tablets." Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneye and bladder like Epsom salts on the bowels. It cleans out the impurities, which cause the irritation. It is cot a patent medicine, as the fromula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high priced drugs, which are necessary to give prompt relief. Very likely, you have never taken anything like it. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, glavel and other deposits of the bladder Ask to see the Keller formula of lithiated buchu at Hunter's Drug Store or drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

J. S. Nichols and Ray Hester Suffer Prolonged Attacks

Hiccough, with all its attendant annoyonce, has developed in two aggravated cases in Lima.

J. S. Nichols, 329 S. Jameson-ave, foreman of the Solar refinery, is so afflicted and is confined to his bed at his home. Since last Thursday, when he was stricken, he has suffered almost continually.

He received little rest Tuesday night, according to word from the Nichols home Wednesday, but was reported a little better. The fits of hiccough are said to not be so prolonged as before. Ray Hester, 762 N. West-st, driver for the Banta Candy company, has recovered from an attack lasting three days, in which he was seriously ill. Hester's wife pulled out his tongue and held it down with a weight, thus affording relief and recovery from the affliction. Hester is again at his work at the Banta fac-

Requires from town adjacent to Lima indicate that epidemics of hiccough are prevalent. Hiccough, also known as hiccups is a spasmodic inspiratory movement, consisting of a sudden contraction of the diaphragm accompanied with closure of the glottis, the inrush of air against the closed glottis pro- languet and installation of officers, ducing a peculiar sound.

night, according to word from the Nichols home Wednesday, but was reported a little better. The fits of hiccough are said to not be so prolonged as before. Ray Hester, 763 N. West-st, driver
